

A person seeking admission as a non-degree undergraduate Special Student must apply through the online application. Completed applications for a given term must be submitted before 11:59PM (Eastern US Time) on the deadline date indicated above. All materials must be submitted online at: gradapply.mit.edu/special/apply

Fall Term Entry:

Application Available: February 1st
Application Due: May 1st
Notification By: July 1st

Spring Term Entry:

Application Available: August 1st
Application Due: October 1st
Notification By: December 1st

Applicants wishing to audit classes, which MIT refers to as Listener Status, are subject to the same regulations and tuition as those taking classes for credit.

Requirements

Below is a list of required components that must be included in the application:

- Submitted online application, which includes applicant biographic information and $75 application fee (by credit card)
- One letter of recommendation from an appropriate professor, instructor, teacher, or work supervisor
- One letter of endorsement from their home institution.
- Planned class schedule, including up to 5 classes to which you are interested in enrolling
- Statement of objective
- Scanned/uploaded copies of your official college transcript(s)
- Official TOEFL score sent to MIT code 3514 and uploaded copy of test report (*International applicants only)

Special Student Admissions notifies all applicants of admissions decisions by email. If the applicant is admitted, further instructions about registration and tuition payment requirements will be provided.