Letter from the Director

Welcome to the Marriott School of Management. Studying at BYU is a unique and special opportunity. In this rich environment, you will have an opportunity to contribute to class discussions and make lasting friends who will appreciate the “unique you.” We invite you to join us and help make BYU a better place.

Take advantage of your semester at BYU. Learn and absorb all you can. It has never been more important to be connected to the global economy than it is today. As an international student you bring a unique perspective to classroom discussions. Contribute to the learning and development of all students by sharing experiences from your international background. Seek out opportunities to get involved in case competitions, field studies, business plan competitions, and other activities in the school. You will find great benefit by participating in these programs.

Please stop by my office any time if you have questions. My staff and I would be happy to provide any assistance possible. All the best and good luck this school year.

Sincerely,

About the University

BYU Campus

Nestled at the foot of the Wasatch Mountains, Brigham Young University is located in Provo, Utah. Founded in 1875, the 560-acre campus is home to more than 33,000 students, representing more than 110 countries, and nearly 4,000 full-time faculty and administrators. Friendly people, beautiful surroundings, and recreational opportunities characterize campus life.

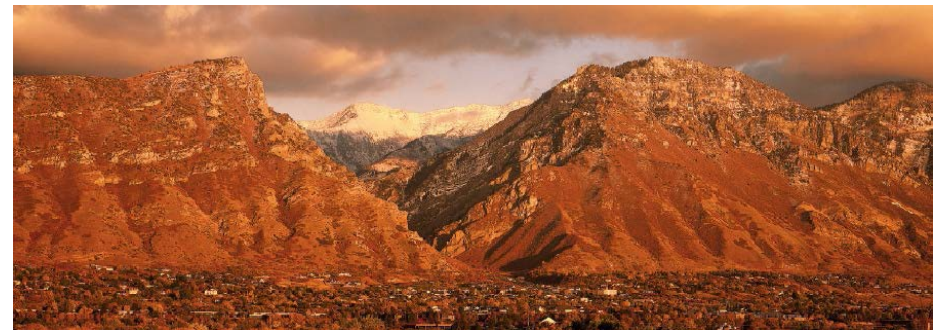

Region

The Provo area is home to over 500,000 people and is rated by Forbes magazine as one of the top places to live and work in the U.S. Recognized as a high-tech base, the area is the first to receive Google Fiber internet and hosts many tech firms such as Novell, eBay, Adobe, Intel, and Qualtrics. Utah’s unemployment rate is well below the national average, and visitors from around the globe travel to the state to experience its four seasons and what some call “the greatest snow on earth.”

Locals enjoy spending their time at shopping centers, restaurants, movie theaters, parks, pools, gyms, and community-sponsored activities. When you need a break from your studies, almost every type of scenery imaginable is only a short drive away—making this the perfect place to also get an education from nature. Whether you’re looking to ski at nearby Sundance, go hiking on 11,750-foot Mount Timpanogos, or kayak the Provo River, recreational opportunities abound.

Just 45 minutes north of Provo is Salt Lake City, a metropolitan center offering entertainment ranging from college and professional sporting events to Broadway musicals and concerts. Salt Lake City hosted the 2002 Olympic Winter Games and is home of the NBA’s Utah Jazz and the MLS’ Real Salt Lake.

Weather

The weather in Utah can change quickly. Though Provo experiences four distinct seasons, it is not unusual for it to be snowy in May or sunny in December. The average temperature for January is 37° F (3° C), and for July is 93° F (33° C). Dress in layers to prepare for changing temperatures, especially in spring and fall. Snowfall can make roads slick and dangerous, so be sure to use caution when driving in the snow. For more information visit weather.com.

BYU Culture

Participating in an exchange program entails experiencing a new culture. BYU has a very distinct culture of its own, and we are confident that you will enjoy it during your time in the U.S. The University's fast-paced schedule is packed with exciting events that involve students from all walks of life. You can experience firsthand a wealth of activities like cheering on the Cougars (BYU's mascot) at intercollegiate sports games; getting your groove on at University-sponsored dances; or being inspired at cultural events like plays, musicals, and concerts.

In terms of academics, BYU's diverse students are spread across 14 colleges and schools within the University and are internationally recognized for their strong work ethic and moral values. See below for a few important cultural points to understand while preparing to become an exchange student at BYU.

Honor Code

Recruiters around the world recognize BYU as one of the best places to hire graduates with high ethical standards. Students agree to abiding by the Honor Code, which describes standards of academic honesty; lawfulness; abstinence from alcohol, tobacco, and illegal substances; abstinence from sexual misconduct; and so on. A complete description of the BYU Honor Code is found at honorcode.byu.edu.

Religion

While BYU welcomes students of any or no faith, it is privately funded by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly referred to as the LDS Church. Non-LDS exchange students may benefit from a basic knowledge of the terminology and beliefs about the Church to help build understanding in a new culture. For more information, visit our website, or see the BYU Club Website to learn about clubs of various other religious denominations.

Prayers in Classroom

Lectures and classes at BYU sometimes begin with a short prayer offered by a volunteer. While praying, the volunteer simply bows his or her head, expresses thanks to God, and asks for blessings. Nobody is obligated to pray or participate, but most people will listen quietly and bow their heads in respect. All students are welcome to participate by saying "amen" together at the end.

Devotionals/Forums

All students, faculty, and employees are invited to attend BYU's weekly presentations, in which speakers address the community about topics varying from personal enrichment to current issues. Devotionals and forums take place every Tuesday from 11:05 AM to 11:50 AM in the Marriott Center. Most administrative offices and some campus services (including the BYU Store and library resource desks) close during this time.

Marriott School of Management

The Marriott School of Management is here to attract, develop, and place men and women of character and professional ability who will become outstanding leaders capable of dealing with change in a global environment. A Marriott School education is rooted in strong management and interdisciplinary training and supported by an emphasis on ethics and principle-based leadership.

Business journals and magazines consistently report the Marriott School as one of the top business schools in the U.S. and the world. See rankings on page 16.

Nearly 8 percent of Marriott School students come from outside the United States, and most of the faculty and students have lived abroad for a year or more. Approximately 62 percent of students are bilingual.

Approximately 2,100 undergraduate students and 1,200 graduate students are enrolled in the Marriott School.

The Marriott School offers nine undergraduate bachelor degrees: Accountancy, Finance, Global Supply Chain, Information Systems, Marketing, Organizational Behavior Human Resources, Experience Design, Therapeutic Recreation, Entrepreneurship, and Strategy.

The Marriott School awards four different master's degrees in six different programs. The Master of Business Administration (MBA), Executive MBA (EMBA), Master of Accountancy (MAcc), Master of Information Systems Management (MISM), Master of Public Administration (MPA), Executive MPA (EMPA), and Master of Science - Youth and Family Recreation.

Academic Expectations

Language of Instruction

Nearly all courses at BYU are taught in English. If English is a second language, a TOEFL score of 80 or higher with a minimum of 20 in each category is required.

Class Format and Grading Scale

Classes usually involve students in interactive dialogue with professors, group projects, case analyses, presentations, and papers. Students are expected to participate and maintain no less than a “C” grade. The grading scale is as follows:

A to A- is 90-100%

B+ to B- is 80-89%

C+ to C- is 70-79%

D+ to D- is 60-69%

Anything below 60% is a failing grade.

Course Load

Course load for students is expected to be 12-15 credits. Most courses are 3 credit hours. Exchange students may not take more than 15 credit hours.

Class Size

Class size varies from course to course. Upper division courses usually have 30-60 students. General division courses can have up to 800 students.

Class Attendance

Attendance, participation, and punctuality are mandatory and will factor into your final grade.

Course Selection

Exchange students may select any courses that are offered at BYU during their semester if they meet the prerequisite requirements and if openings are available. Special permission for admittance may be granted to exchange students for the business courses that have limited enrollment. Work with the BYU coordinator to obtain the desired courses.

Examinations

Most courses will have 2-4 exams throughout the semester with a comprehensive final at the end of the semester. Student must take all exams throughout the semester, not just the final exam. Most exams are taken at the testing center.

Applying to BYU

Congratulations on your nomination to BYU's student exchange program! We are excited to welcome you to our campus and to help you have an unforgettable experience.

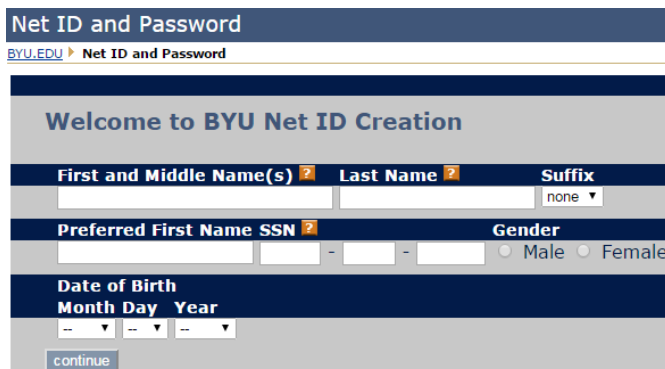

You can access the exchange student application at kennedy.byu.edu/apply. Read the information on the page and then click the blue "CONTINUE TO APPLICATION" box at the bottom of the page.

At this point, a login screen will appear. If you already have your personal BYU Net ID, enter it to continue to the application. If you do not have one, create one now by clicking on "Create a Net ID". Be sure to create an ID that is appropriate and easy to remember, as you will use it frequently here at BYU.

The image shows the BYU Sign In page. It features a "Sign In" heading, a "Net ID:" input field, a "Password:" input field, and a "Forgot your Net ID or password?" link. A red circle highlights the "Create a Net ID" link. There is also a checkbox for "Warn me before signing me into other sites." and a "Sign In" button.

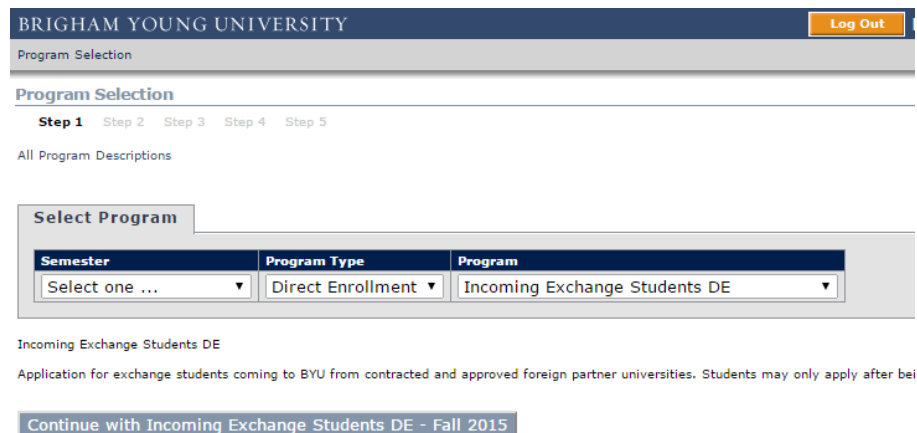

Follow the instructions to fill out your personal information accurately and completely; if any fields are left blank, your application will not be complete.

The image shows the "Net ID and Password" creation page. It has a "Welcome to BYU Net ID Creation" heading. The form includes fields for "First and Middle Name(s)", "Last Name", "Suffix", "Preferred First Name", "SSN", "Gender" (with radio buttons for Male and Female), and "Date of Birth" (with dropdowns for Month, Day, and Year). A "continue" button is at the bottom.

Now that you have your new Net ID and password, you have access to the application and many other BYU resources. After logging in at the previously explained site, your personal information will appear. Verify that it is correct. If there is a mistake, click the grey "Update Information" box; otherwise, click "Continue".

Then, select the grey "Add" box to choose your program. Select the desired semester in the drop menu under Semester. In Program Type, select Direct Enrollment. In Program, select Incoming Exchange Students DE.

The image shows the "Program Selection" screen. It has a "BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY" header with a "Log Out" button. Below the header is a "Program Selection" section with a progress indicator showing "Step 1" selected. There is a "Select Program" section with three dropdown menus: "Semester" (set to "Select one ..."), "Program Type" (set to "Direct Enrollment"), and "Program" (set to "Incoming Exchange Students DE"). Below this is a description for "Incoming Exchange Students DE" and a "Continue with Incoming Exchange Students DE - Fall 2015" button.

The application consists of sections about agreement information, personal information, emergency contact, Ecclesiastical Endorsement, and letter of intent.

Please completely fill out the bio data and write a 250 word letter of intent explaining why you want to study at BYU and how it will help you fulfill your academic, professional, and personal goals.

Like all other BYU students, you will be expected to abide by the BYU Honor Code. The Honor Code is explained in detail at honorcode.byu.edu. Please review it carefully. You do not need to be religious to attend BYU, but all students – including exchange students – agree to uphold the University's standards. James Slaughter, the BYU Chaplain, will contact you soon for an interview that will fulfill the requirement for your Ecclesiastical Endorsement.

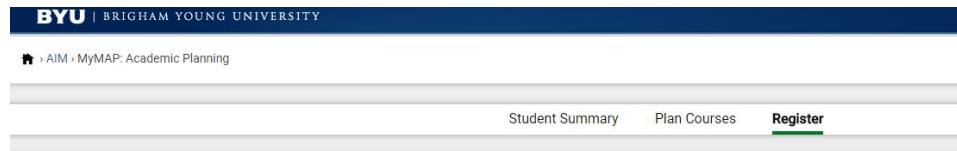

Course Offerings

To see the classes offered by the Marriott School, visit the course catalog at <https://catalog2018.byu.edu>.

Here you can browse courses and see what is offered by different programs in the Marriott School. Please note that business language classes are offered under “Business Programs” as MSB596R.

Registering for Classes

Register for courses by logging in to <https://mymap.byu.edu> with your net ID and password. Click on “Register,” the last tab to the right.

Registration

Scroll to the correct semester, and then select the “Add a Class” button. A window like this will pop up:

You will need to select an option for each field, from left to right. Then, the list of available sections of your course will appear. Before selecting your desired section, pay attention to information such as seats available, class size, number of credits, class period, time and day, location, and professor.

Select the best option for you, and then click on the corresponding “+A” to add that section of the course to your schedule.

Repeat this process for all of your desired courses. If you are unsure about a class, you should register for it anyway while you decide, as many classes fill up quickly and you could lose your spot.

All students participating in this program are also required to enroll in the BYU Student Health Plan. To sign up go to <https://onestop.byu.edu/enroll-student-health-plan>. If you encounter any difficulties or have questions about applying, registering, or enrolling in the Student Health Plan, please contact your coordinator or Mary Kay Lloyd at mkloyd@byu.edu.

Housing

Student housing is available both on- and off-campus. On-campus housing is a popular and conveniently located option.

Check out <https://www.byu.edu/oncampushousing/> to learn about on-campus living. If you choose campus housing in the fall, you will need to sign up for both a contract that covers both Fall/Winter. There is a simple petition form that you will need to fill out once you arrive on campus that will cancel your contract for Winter.

Off-campus housing options vary by cost, quality, and distance from campus. Be sure that the housing is BYU-contracted and that the landlord knows that you only plan to stay for one semester. Know everything about the contract before signing. Before signing a contract, consider asking questions like

- What are the contract's start/end dates? Is there a one-semester option?
- What are check-in and check-out dates?
- Are there fees for leaving after only one semester?
- How are utilities (water, electricity, internet, cable, etc.) covered?
- What amenities (pool, hot tub, dishwasher, tennis courts, etc.) are included?
- How many people are in each unit?
- How far is the apartment from the BYU campus?

See off-campus housing options at <https://housingguide.byu.edu>, <https://cougarhousing.com>, and <https://och.byu.edu>.

Most apartments will try to make you sign contracts are for both fall and winter semesters, but some offer one-semester contracts to exchange students. Examples include Canyon Terrace, Cinnamon Tree, Continental (men), Crown Apartments, House (women), La Grande, Sparks 2, Summerhays (men), The Brittany, University Apartments, and University House. In all cases, ask the management to verify specifics of contracts.

Insurance

Federal Regulations require each exchange student to have insurance in effect which covers sickness or accident during the period of time that an exchange visitor participates in the sponsor's exchange visitor program. Minimum coverage shall provide

- (1) Medical benefits of at least $100,000 per accident or illness;
- (2) Repatriation of remains in the amount of $25,000
- (3) Expenses associated with medical evacuation of the exchange visitor to his or her home country in the amount of $50,000; and
- (4) A deductible not to exceed $500 per accident or illness.

In order to meet these needs, J-1 students are required to enroll in the BYU DMBA Student Health Plan. (Your home country insurance will not cover this requirement, though we encourage you to maintain your home country coverage for the time you are away in case you need to return home for treatments.) For more information about coverage through the BYU Student Health Plan, please visit <http://health.byu.edu/index2.php?page=shc/health-bro.php> or <http://www.dmba.com/nsc/student/handbooks.aspx>. The plan costs about $300 per semester (as of Fall 2016). This enrollment fee will be assessed to your BYU student financial account at the beginning of each semester you are here.

Requesting Transcripts

You will need to present your home institution with a copy of your BYU transcript when you return. U.S. privacy protection laws prohibit us from requesting your transcripts for you. You can request your transcript in person at the BYU Registrar's office (B-150 ASB) or online. To access the transcript request page:

- (1) Visit <https://transcripts.byu.edu>.
- (2) Choose how you would like to receive your transcript (in person, online, or by mail/fax).
- (3) Fill in the information requested.
- (4) Pay the fee.

BYU Campus Resources

Student Center

The Wilkinson Student Center (WSC), commonly called the "Wilk," is the campus hub for socializing, eating, and finding assistance. On the second (main) floor, students can dine at one of the restaurants at the Cougar eat or grab a smoothie from Jamba Juice. Also found on the second floor are the Student ID center, where exchange students will receive their student ID card; the BYU Store; and centers for academic advisement, career counseling, and job placement. Located in the basement are a post office, lost and found, Cougar Creations (printing shop), Studio 1030 (salon and barbershop), bowling alley and student classified advertisement bulletin board.

International Student Services

Located in 1351 WSC, the International Student Services office is available to help international students with visa and immigration documentation and procedures. Directly across the hallway in 1320 WSC is the Multicultural Service Center, which connects students through multicultural activities.

See <https://internationalservices.byu.edu> and <https://multicultural.byu.edu>

BYU Store

The BYU Store, located in the WSC, sells textbooks, leisure books, candies, clothing, electronics, school supplies, BYU paraphernalia, and more. Visit <https://byustore.byu.edu>

Fitness Centers

The Smith Fieldhouse (SFH) and the Richards Building (RB) are the primary physical fitness centers. The two buildings provide an indoor track, full-service gym, swimming pool, basketball courts, volleyball courts, racquetball courts, tennis courts, and more. Most facilities require a wristband that can be acquired at no cost with a BYU ID card. Visit 112 RB or <https://wellness.byu.edu> to learn more about free play hours.

Library

The Harold B. Lee Library (HBLL) is one of the best libraries in the nation, containing 98 miles of shelving with more than 8 million items. Study seating for nearly 5,000 students and more than 800 computers are available for student use, making the HBLL the most popular study hub on campus. Login to <https://lib.byu.edu> with your Net ID to access countless databases, articles, and other resources.

Internet Access

All students with electronic devices have access to the University's on-campus wireless network. To access the BYU Secure wifi, use password, byuwireless. BYU Internet quality and pricing vary in off-campus housing.

Clubs and Intramurals

Apart from the Marriott School of Management's clubs, dozens of BYU clubs invite student participation in activities varying from foreign languages and cultures to performance and from athletics to special interests. Check them out at clubs.byu.edu. Intramural sports are also a popular activity for students, who can join teams for soccer, basketball, Frisbee, tennis, flag football, and more. See <https://intramurals.byu.edu>.

Sports and Performing Arts Events

BYU's year-round sports teams and nationally acclaimed arts programs offer regular on-campus events. See schedules and buy tickets at <https://byutickets.com>

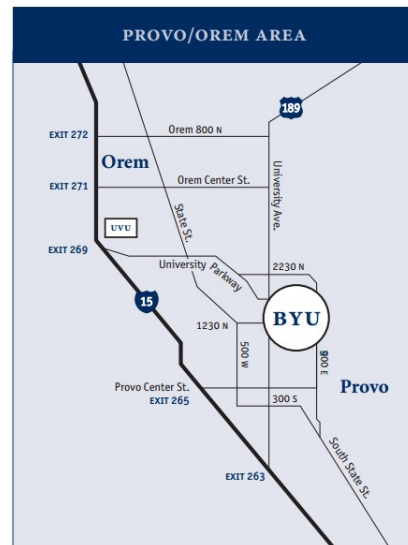

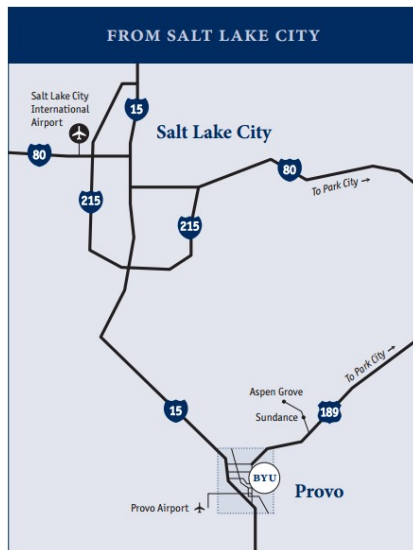

Living in Provo

Getting to BYU from the Airport

Shuttles are the most convenient transportation from the Salt Lake City International Airport (SLC) to Provo, due to the high cost of cabs and bulkiness of suitcases in public transportation. Make your travel arrangements before arriving in Utah. Popular shuttles include:

- Express Shuttle – <https://expressshuttleutah.com>, 1-800-397-0773
- Riverwoods Shuttle – <https://riverwoodsshuttle.com>, 1-801-691-0978

If you plan to drive to Provo, refer to the map below. Coming from the Salt Lake City International Airport, travel east on I-80 and take the I-215 South (Provo) exit. Next, take the I-15 South exit and travel to exit 269, University Parkway (about 30 miles). Turn east (towards the closest mountains). This road will take you to the northern entrances to campus by the football stadium. See page X or map.byu.edu for a detailed map of campus.

You can also take the train (called FrontRunner) down to the Provo station from the airport and a bus from the Provo station to campus. Visit this website to plan your trip: <https://www.rideuta.com/Rider-Tools/Trip-Planner>. Once you board the bus at the Provo station (usually the 830 or 831), let the driver know that you need to go to BYU campus.

Getting to BYU from the Provo Airport

You can schedule a taxi to pick you up, or you can take the bus from the Provo airport to the Provo FrontRunner station and then transfer to a bus to BYU. (This is usually the 833 bus to the station and 830 or 831 to BYU.) You can use this site to plan your trip: <https://www.rideuta.com/Rider-Tools/Trip-Planner>.

Public Transportation

Though nearly everything you will need is within walking distance of BYU's campus, you may want to get away to visit other sites, stores, or cities. Public transportation in the region consists of buses and light rail. Route maps and schedules are available at rideuta.com. Students qualify for a discounted pass. See rideuta.com/studentpass. BYU also offers The Ryde, a shuttle service that is free of charge to students. For schedules and routes, please see <https://studentmovement.com/map/routesschedules>.

Cell Phones

Contract-less and prepaid phones are the most popular cell phone options for exchange students. Service is available from T-Mobile, Consumer Cellular, AT&T, Sprint, and others. Prices typically vary between $40 and $50 per month.

Questions to ask:

- Is there an activation fee?
- How much will I pay per month?
- Is my phone compatible with your SIM card? (The majority of cell phone U.S. carriers use GSM technology, though a few use CDMA technology.)
- How much does it cost to make international calls?

For assistance, ask your student exchange mentor, a friend, or the Global Management Center in 360 TNRB.

Health and Emergency

In the event of an emergency, call 911 from any telephone. If you have an emergency on or near campus, you may also contact BYU Police at 801-422-2222.

Provo is renowned for its many excellent healthcare facilities. Below is an abbreviated list of the resources nearest to campus.

Emergency Room: Utah Valley Regional Medical Center

1034 North 500 West, Provo, 801-357-7850

Pharmacy: CVS Pharmacy

1273 N. University Ave., Provo, 801-377-3280

Optometrist: Utah Valley Optometric Physicians

1255 N. University Ave., Provo, 801-377-4333

Dentist: Ninth East Dental

1234 North 900 East #100, 801-854-9140

Chiropractor: Accident & Injury Chiropractic Clinic

1774 N. University Parkway, 801-225-4772

Banking

Most exchange students use bank cards from their native countries, eliminating the need to open an American bank account. Contact your institution to understand (a) if your cards will be accepted in the U.S. and (b) what fees will be assessed for using your card internationally.

Several ATM's are located at the WSC, including Wells Fargo, Chase, and a number of local credit unions. Other banks are located close to campus.

If you choose to open a bank account, the closest bank is Wells Fargo, located inside the BYU Store in the WSC. Visit or call 801-375-4275 for more information.

On-Campus Recreation and Entertainment

BYU Sports

Men's and women's sporting events take place at the Lavelle Edwards Stadium, Marriott Center, Smith Fieldhouse, Richards Building, and Miller Baseball Field. If you plan to attend many games, consider buying a ROC sports pass. Learn more at byucougars.com or tickets.byu.edu.

Harris Fine Arts Center (HFAC)

Concerts, recitals, and plays are produced regularly by BYU's award-winning arts programs. Exchange students are invited to pick up an Arts Card (in 2006 JKB), which enables them to attend as many selected Fine Art events as they want for only $2 per event. See byuarts.com or tickets.byu.edu.

International Cinema

Free films, typically foreign, are shown in a variety of languages (with English subtitles) in 250 SWKT. See ic.byu.edu for show times.

BYU Creamery

A wildly popular ice cream parlor, restaurant, and convenience store located at 900 East and 1209 North.

Museum of Art (MOA)

The MOA features awe-inspiring art exhibits from around the world and is located on campus. Admission is normally free. See moa.byu.edu.

Bowling Alley

Each student gets one free game of bowling per academic year (valid Mon-Thurs before 5 p.m.). Located in the basement of the WSC. See bowling.byu.edu.

Monte L. Bean Life Science Museum

Located north of the bell tower, the museum has an exciting collection of preserved plants and animals. Admission is free. Visit mlbean.byu.edu.

The Wall

Lounge and restaurant that features live music, comfortable ambiance, and large flat screen TV's. Perfect place to study or chill during the day and have fun at night. Located in the WSC. See thewall.byu.edu.

Outdoors Unlimited

This shop rents out all types of recreational equipment, including skis, kayaks, bikes, and more. 2201 N. Canyon Road, Provo. See outdoors.byu.edu.

Off-Campus Recreation and Entertainment

Hike the Y

A long-standing tradition at BYU, hiking to the enormous "Y" on the mountain is a fun afternoon activity. The trail is short but steep. To arrive, go eastbound on 800 North until the end, and then take a right to the trailhead.

Peaks Ice Arena

Embrace the winter chill or cool off during the summer with your friends at this ice skating rink. 100 N. Seven Peaks Blvd., Provo. See provo.org/community/peaks-ice-arena.

Provo Recreation Center

Recreation center with dozens of amenities, including: indoor and outdoor aquatic center, lap pool, workout classes, fitness center, racquetball and basketball courts, etc. Located at 320 W 500N, Provo, UT. See provo.org/community/recreation-center.

Cinemark 16

Festival of Colors

This traditional Indian festival of Holi typically occurs in late March, announcing the arrival of spring and the passing of winter. The event takes place in Spanish Fork, Utah. See festivalofcolorsusa.com.

Rock Canyon

About 15 minutes walking from campus, Rock Canyon has hiking and biking trails, sledding hills, cliffs for rappelling, and more. To arrive, go north on 900 East, and then turn right on Temple View Dr. Turn right at the stop sign at the top of the hill and follow the road until you reach the park's main entrance. See rockcanyonutah.com.

The Quarry

Indoor rock climbing center with nearly 13,000 feet of wall space. 2924 N. University Parkway, Provo. See quarryclimbing.com

Nickel City

Home of cheap arcade games and laser tag. 1515 South State St., Orem. See nickelcityorem.com.

Provo Canyon

Parks, waterfalls, and rivers lie just up the canyon from Provo. The scenic byway (US 189 and SR 113) begins at the intersection of SR 52 (800 North in Orem) and US 189 (University Ave.).

Skiing/Snowboarding

Utah is home to some of the greatest winter resorts in the U.S. See liftopia.com for reduced-price tickets. Sundance is closest ski resort to BYU campus.

Velour Live Music Gallery

A cozy live music venue featuring local artists. Past performers include Imagine Dragons, Neon Trees, Sara Bareilles, and Matt Nathanson. 135 N. University Ave., Provo. velourlive.com

Salt Lake City

About an hour away by car or by route 750 on the UTA Frontrunner, Salt Lake City is the perfect destination for action-packed day trips. See utah.com/saltlake or visitsaltlake.com.
